Being an active member of the Chamber has been a key component in our business development and growth. Through the Chamber, we have had many opportunities to network, in a professional setting, with other area businesses. This has allowed us to gain a better understanding of the area's business environment, develop a strong understanding of how the apparatus of our businesses work together, and how everyone individually and collectively contributes to the success and economic strength of the community. The Chamber allows a passionate group of individuals to create win-win situations for the betterment of the community, one relationship at a time.

- Ron Jackson, Branch Manager, Holmes Security Systems
